3 Introduction

In 2009, National e-Governance Division was created by the Ministry of Electronics & Information Technology as an Independent Business Division under the Digital India Corporation (erstwhile Media Lab Asia). Since 2009, NeGD has been playing a pivotal role in supporting MeitY in Programme Management and implementation of the e-Governance Projects; provide technical and advisory support to Ministries/ Departments, both at Central and State levels along with other Government organizations. NeGD's major operational areas include programme management, project development, technology management, capacity building, awareness and communications related activities under the flagship Digital India Programme. Awareness and Communication (A&C) is an integral component of the Digital India Programme. A&C performs the crucial role of generating and raising the level of awareness about Digital India, its schemes, initiatives and services amongst diverse stakeholders across the country.

The few of envisioned roles and responsibilities of NeGD are as follows:

1. Providing strategic direction in terms of framing policies and implementation strategy for the Digital India Programme and projects in different domains of e-governance.
2. Supporting the development of specific frameworks and guidelines such as the India Enterprise Architecture Framework, Digital Service Standards, etc.

NeGD has developed and is managing several National Public Digital Platforms such as DigiLocker (55 Cr+ users), UMANG (9 Cr+ users), Rapid Assessment System, OpenForge, API Setu (6k+ consumers), MyScheme (4.5k+ schemes already live), India Stack Global, Meri Pehchaan and, UX4G etc.

In addition, several Ministries and Departments are onboarded with NeGD/DIC as implementing partner for their projects/programmes such as Poshan Tracker of Ministry of Women and Child Development (1.34 million Aanganwadi Workers and 14 lakh+ Aanganwadi Centers connected), Academic Bank of Credits (ABC) and National Academic Depository (NAD) of Ministry of Education (33.97 Cr+ APAAR created), DIKSHA of NCERT (183.8 million enrollments), My Bharat of Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Lakhpati Didi of Ministry of Rural Development (2.23 Cr+ potential Lakhpati Didi identified), AAINA-Dashboard for Cities of Ministry of Housing & Urban Affairs, Saras Aajeevika (eSaras) of Ministry of Rural Development and, NHAI DATALAKE 3.0 of National Highway Authority of India etc.

The exponential increase in digital service volume, the necessity of inclusivity and trust, demand for specialization, technology, and efficiency, bridging the digital divide; handling complexity & errors; empowering users/citizen; supporting internal users to make the digital service simpler to use, data and ux improvement services etc is fueling the need for increase in call center support desk.

in view of the above and requirement from various ministries and departments, NeGD keen to strengthen the Digital India Call Centers (DICC) as a service for these ministries /departments by empanelment of various competent call centre agencies. In addition, the public providers seek to modernize their citizen experience, manage high-volume complexity, and achieve efficiency through strategic implementations and technology adoption.

The DICC is envisioned as a growing, multi-project support platform that can be rapidly scaled to onboard new Digital India initiatives and extend helpdesk services to additional government programs/departments/digital products etc.
